Request for Proposal

Culturally based mentoring activities

Northern Cheyenne Tribal Board of Health

April 19, 2018

The Northern Cheyenne Tribe is soliciting proposals from qualified organizations and individuals for contractual services for the Northern Cheyenne Tribal Board of Health located on the Northern Cheyenne Reservation, Lame Deer, Montana.

PROGRAM:

The NCTBH (Northern Cheyenne Tribal Board of Health) is seeking an individual(s) or organization to provide culturally based mentoring activities that will assist the NCTBH's Health Promotion Programs' Cottonwood Connections youth suicide prevention program. Cottonwood Connections is a 5-year culturally-based community driven suicide prevention project that will utilize Tier 1 Universal prevention strategies based in the Northern Cheyenne culture. Primary intervention targets include: community-wide education and training to promote community and trauma resilience while reducing risk factors and early identification and triage of high-risk youth. Cottonwood Connections aims to develop a comprehensive Tier 1 universal prevention strategy based on the Northern Cheyenne values of inclusion, kinship systems, reciprocity, and humility for youth ages 0-24 years.

The individual / organization that provides culturally based mentoring activities will be responsible for working with the Cottonwood Connections staff to implement financial education, entrepreneurship, nutritional, traditional foods/plants and leadership development based on Cheyenne traditions and culture. By emphasizing resiliency factors such as a good support system, cultural identity, history, and self-confidence through culturally-based mentoring activities will reduce suicide risk in Cheyenne youth. In the summer 2018, the individual/organization providing culturally based mentoring activities will work with the Cottonwood Connections team to develop a 4-year plan for offering culturally-based interventions in the community. They will help Cottonwood Connections reach youth and plan culturally-based mentoring activities for Years 2-5. This individual/organization must be available via phone, email, and in-person to plan and implement the activities with the Cottonwood Connections' Community Health Specialist, Project Director, Workgroup, Evaluation Scientist, and identified community partners. This individual/organization will be responsible for planning and implementing culturally based mentoring activities reaching a minimum of 100 youth. The individual/organization will be responsible for providing; a) documentation of the activities/lessons implemented, b) the number of youth that attended verified by a sign in sheet, and c) evaluations from participants to the Community Health Specialist. We anticipate granting one award from this request for proposals.

CONTENT OF THE PROPOSALS:

To adequately select the individual(s) or organization who will best serve the needs of the Northern Cheyenne Tribe, it will be necessary to review the experience and qualifications of the respondents as they relate to the service and activity needs listed. Individuals and organizations who wish to submit a
